A Grim Incident.

An English correspondent, writing from the seat of war in Madagascar, says: "The commander of the Hugon says: "The commander of the Hugon sent a Sakalava with 45 francs to bribe the people at the Hova port of Ambodavallibe (at the bottom of the mountain) to show him over the battery, which is on the beach, and mounted with guns. By a mistake, he addressed himself to the captain of the port, who, being only in 'lemba' at the time, was not distinguishable from anyone else. Having shown the Sakalava everything to his satisfaction, the captain had a to his satisfaction, the captain had a stone tied on the spy's neck, sent him out to sea in a canoe, and had him thrown overboard in sight of the French man-of-war's boat, which was behind the bluff, waiting for him. The same day were shot seven envoys of the French sent to steal cattle in the plain. Many spies are caught, and most of them are shot."

No Hope of Relief "How much will you take for that infernal accordin?" demanded the red-faced citizen who had thrust his head out of the second story window. "It wouldn't do you any good to buy it, mister." answered the dejected mu-sician on the sidewalk. I've six more

This Collector Has a Juicy Little Method of His Own.

TAKING IN DOG LICENSES

The Canine Owners Pay Up and Think Everything Is All Right Untill the Real Man Comes Along.

Butte, Sept. 14.—Speculators have been around town the past few days working people for a dollar or two on their canine sympathy. They have represented that they are the poundrepresented that they are the pound-masters, and their dogs must be li-censed, but agree to leave them alone for $1. As the regular dog license is $2, the speculators have done a rush-fing business, people generally prefer-ring to pay $1 to be let alone than to pay $2 for a regular license.

The fraud was discovered by the poundmaster to-day going around for licenses and being informed by parties that they had already been worked for $1, and would not be worked for any more. The poundmaster, the mayor more. The poundmaster, the and others are now trying to fir who the speculators are, and think they know who one of them is, but will probably not move in the matter until the offender has been given time enough to get to Gibbonsville. It is not generally thought that he will run away unless he is guilty. The dog pound has been removed to the crematory, but stray cows can still be found at the old stand in West Mercury street. The city now has on hand about 45 dog corpses and 10 live dogs.

The 46 were massacred yesterday without being proved guilty by a jury of their peers, and the dead bodies were thrown into the crematory and converted into Butte smoke. execution will take place Monday. Dogs are kept 48 hours, and if not redeemed in that time will be put to death. These 10 dogs now on hand will be due to die Monday unless reprieved by the mayor. Monday unless reprieved by the major. The removal of the pound to the crematory greatly lessens the chances of dogs being redeemed as many who would visit the pound while it was in town will not go clear out to the crematory. The Burlington's l'utte Agent.

Butte, Sept. 14.—W. W. Johnston, the Burlington road's energetic commercial agent for Montana, was in the city to-day installing Phil Daniels, the new Butte agent of that road, into office. Mr. Daniels has been the local went at Billings for some time and agent at Billings for some time and he has the reputation and appearance of being a hustler and the fact that he has been associated with Mr. John-ston is a guarantee that he is a giltedged railroad man. He will remove his family here at once and will open offices in the Butte hotel annex as soon as the building is completed.

Trying to Be Arrested.

Butte, Sept. 14.—Ex-Mayor Dugan and P. L. Miller, accompanied by At-torney Haldorn, went to Judge Al-mon's court again this afternoon to mon's court again this afternoon to ask that Dugan be arrested and Miller to ask that his case be set for trial. They found that Judge Almon had gone fishing and Judge Kirkwood of Meaderville, who was acting in his place, said he knew nothing about the matter and they would have to wait until Almon got back.

Metlosky's Case.

Butte, Sept. 14.—On account of the beence from the city of Judge Almon. the preliminary examination of Officer John Hooper, who is charged by John McClosky with assault in the first degree, was continued to-day.
